

Peoples Company Land Appraisers Join ASFMRA

Published on Feb 23, 2015 by Peoples Company

The Most Trusted Rural Property Professionals

Members of the Peoples Company appraisal and brokerage team, including Rick Shafer, Brad Hayes, Shelby Spratte and Landon Maynes, have joined the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers (ASFMRA). The group joins current ASFMRA members and Peoples Company associates Jeffrey T. Obrecht and Randy Luze.

Peoples Company values ASFMRA's commitment to ensuring that its members adhere to the highest standards of integrity and professional ethics. The society offers intensive courses, classroom training and an abundance of educational resources aimed at inspiring land professionals who provide valuation, management, and consultation services on rural and agricultural assets.

Peoples Company's commitment to empowering land decision-makers in collaborative learning and networking environments goes hand-in-hand with the relationship-driven brand that our agents and staff are working to build via membership in organizations such as the ASFMRA.

Please join us in congratulating Brad and Rick, who have qualified for the ASFMRA mentoring program, along with Shelby, Landon and each agricultural real estate professional whose objective and competent performance stands out in the real estate appraisal and farm management space.
