

Trump, on C-Span, Talking of Real Estate Business, Politics in Iowa

Published on Jan 12, 2015 by Peoples Company

Image not found or type unknown

Donald Trump, president and chair of the Trump Organization, kicks off a discussion with Carlyle Group co-founder David Rubenstein with talk of his upcoming trip to Iowa.

Donald Trump on C-span

Rubenstein interviewed Trump at The Economic Club in Washington, D.C., with topics related to the real estate magnate's political aspirations and business goals.

“There is a real estate dinner in Iowa done by a very, very big company – and a terrific company – and they asked me to be the keynote speaker,” Trump said. “So, I’m there for two reasons: real estate and politics.”

Trump, who is seriously considering a run for president in 2016, plans to make a decision by spring. The Land Expo takes place January 23, at the Sheraton West Des Moines Hotel.

There is a limited number of tickets still available. Learn more at www.LandInvestmentExpo.com.