

2022 National Land Values Webinar

Published on Nov 4, 2022 by Peoples Company

Previously recorded on Wednesday, November 16, 2022.

Peoples Company unveiled the third annual National Land Values report featuring data-driven research on current farmland values across the nation, trends that may impact future values, and practical stories from around the country. This exclusive webinar explores how rising inflation, increasing geopolitical pressures, and U.S. policies have impacted the farmland asset class as a whole and on a regional basis.
