BIO

Eric Lonnevik specializes in Land Brokerage and Land Auctions across the state of Iowa. Eric grew up near Belmond, Iowa working on his family's row crop and livestock operation. He developed an enduring passion for the outdoors at a young age resulting in a strong connection to the land and all things that depend upon it. After college he spent several years in Sales and Sales Management in both the Outdoor Sporting Industry and Agricultural Industry before transitioning into Real Estate Sales. With his strong farm background, cooperative nature, and solid reputation, Eric is a reliable choice if you are looking for a Real Estate agent to represent you whether you are buying or selling land.
